

5 Ways to Improve Your Spreadsheet Processes

---

Greetings!

Spreadsheets are a mainstay in almost every organization. They are a great way to calculate and manipulate numeric data to make decisions. Unfortunately, data is growing at 30% a year and relying on spreadsheet-based tools for heavy data preparation, blending and analysis can be cumbersome and unreliable.

This paper highlights how transitioning from a spreadsheet-based environment to an Alteryx workflow approach can help analysts:

- Understand how data changes throughout each step in the analytics process
- Build repeatable processes to improve consistency in your analysis
- Operationalize analytics with a flexible deployment and consumption environment

Download this paper now and start to deliver the self-service data analytics that your organization requires.

Also if you haven't already, download the free trial of Alteryx.
